

English Tutor Talk Transcript

[Ingrid] Hi, my name's Ingrid and I teach English at Greenbank College.

English is vitally important in all aspects of life, in workplace situations and also in social daily interactions.

At Greenbank, we have smaller class sizes, support workers in class and computers in every English classroom.

We focus on you as an individual, so we start with as much or as little English you know and then you can go up the levels as you attend classes.

Some students start on a basic everyday English level. Others start on City & Guilds Entry Level one and you can work your way right up to City & Guilds Level one or even GCSE English.

We use a variety of learning methods, as well as traditional text books and exercise books, we have online English activities and English games.

For reading, as well as traditional novels and plays, we offer some interesting alternatives.

We focus on reading, writing, speaking and listening.

Thanks for listening, and I hope to see some of you in my English classes in September.
